

A night sky with a crescent moon in the top left corner. The sky is dark blue with scattered stars. Large, billowing clouds are illuminated from below, creating a bright blue and white glow that fills the lower half of the image.

See you in February

Good Night